INTRODUCTION

Disposal authorisation
Section 24 of the Archives Act 1983 provides that records are not to be disposed of without the consent of the Archives unless the action of disposal is positively required by law, or takes place in accordance with a normal administrative practice of which the Archives does not disapprove. Advice on the provisions of the Archives Act can be obtained from any National Archives office.

Purpose of this authority
This authority authorises the transfer of custody or ownership, or other disposal, of Commonwealth records as required by the Archives Act.

Using this authority
This authority covers records controlled by the agency and applies only to the records or classes of records described in the authority.

This authority is to be used to determine the custody or ownership of Commonwealth records. This is done by a process known as 'sentencing'. Sentencing involves the examination of records in order to identify the individual disposal class to which they belong. This process enables the sentencing officer to determine the appropriate disposal action for the records. Advice on sentencing can be obtained from your nearest National Archives office.

Records remaining in Commonwealth custody should be sentenced in accordance with the Administrative Functions Disposal Authority issued by the National Archives to cover housekeeping and other records common to most Commonwealth agencies and other specific Records Disposal Authorities issued to the agency. Records selected as national archives should be transferred into the custody of the National Archives. The Archives no longer accepts records which have not been sentenced in accordance with valid records disposal authorities. Commonwealth agencies may withdraw records for official reference purposes through the lending service.

Conditions attached to the disposal authority
In some circumstances, it may be necessary for the relevant Commonwealth agency to enter into contractual arrangements with the body taking custody or ownership of the records to ensure that the ongoing needs of the Commonwealth are protected. The contract may include clauses to:

- recover records at the completion of the contract, or at any other reasonable time
- ensure that the records are appropriately managed and maintained
- protect the security of the records
- ensure compliance with the provisions of the Privacy Act 1988 as if the custodian was the ‘Record Keeper’ in accordance with that Act
- prevent unauthorised disclosure of information, in accordance with the provisions of the Crimes Act 1914 and any legislation relevant to your agency
- provide for reasonable access to the records by the Commonwealth and its authorised agents
- limit the use of the records to legitimate purposes under the terms of the contract

You should seek specific legal advice on these matters.
Amendment of this authority
An amendment of this authority must be approved by the National Archives. Officers using the authority should advise the National Archives of any changes considered desirable.

Director, Recordkeeping Implementation

Expiry Date
APPLICATION

This disposal authority has been developed to address the records custody and ownership issues arising from the transfer of the Rural Industries Research and Development Corporation (RIRDC) egg industry research and development operations to the Australian Egg Corporation Limited (AECL). The scope of this RDA will not include anything other than what is required to meet the immediate needs of the AECL to undertake the egg industry research and development function.

The custody of records required by the new owner(s) to meet its contractual obligations with Commonwealth agencies will be transferred to the new owner in accordance with General Disposal Authority (GDA) 25. GDA 25 authorises the transfer of custody of Commonwealth records required by a contractor to perform its contractual obligations.
