

I will respect my colleagues for who they are

I will contribute to an environment where each person can make a difference and grow

I will listen to the experience and knowledge of my colleagues

I will trust my colleagues and make decisions together

I will communicate and consult regularly and early within and across teams

I will develop my knowledge of and connections with other teams

I will build on our history, past successes and challenges

I will be curious and suggest new ideas and opportunities for change

I will experiment and use failure as an opportunity to learn
