

STATEMENT OF REASONS UNDER SECTION 40(5) OF THE ARCHIVES ACT 1983- INCLUDING DECISION ON ACCESS

Record Series: A8742	Control symbol: 1980/188
Title: Report of the independent inquiry into repatriation paper 7 reasons for decisions	Total number of folios on the record: 80

1. Decision

After examining this record I have decided to partially exempt it from public access.

2. Basis for decision

I have taken into account:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983 (the Act)
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

3. Material withheld

Category of material withheld	Number of total folios per category
Partially exempted folios (certain parts of the text have been expunged)	0
Wholly exempted folios	10

4. Findings of fact and reasons for decision

A. Findings of fact

In Table A in Annexure 1, I have provided a summary of my findings of fact where I have invoked specific provisions under s 33 of the Act. By invoking these provisions, I have relied on material listed in part 2 above in order to arrive at my decision.

B. Reasons for decision

In Table A in Annexure 1, I have provided the reasons for my decision for each folio exempted and those reasons are derived from the findings of fact.

5. Appeal rights

National Archives undertakes careful examination of a record before making a decision to exempt any part of a record. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with my decision to exempt information under a provision of s 33 of the Act, you can contact a reference officer in National Archives and seek a further explanation.

If you are still not happy with the decision and within 28 days of receiving it, you can formally appeal by:

- 1) first applying to Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
- 2) if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

For more information please read the National Archives Fact Sheet 12- *What to do if we refuse you access. You can also lodge a complaint with the Commonwealth Ombudsman in relation to the decision.

Annexure 1

Table A: Material exempted by folio number and grouped by the application of exemption provisions

Relevant legislative provision invoked under s33 of the Act	Folio numbers	Finding of facts	Reasons for decision
S 33(1) (g) – information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).	67 to 76	These folios are wholly exempt as they contain: Medical information concerning a named person.	Disclosure of the information would involve unreasonable disclosure of medical information. The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons subject of the record. The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests that the information was widely known in the community at the time. There is no evidence in the record that suggest that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years. Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information

As discussed,

The one highlighted had a duplicate entry with a title - Reports, publications and references supplied to the department regarding Agent Orange and other herbicides (where no file exists for a specific herbicides). The physical file has the title I uploaded. Not sure about the email you sent last week they may be located elsewhere.

They are all in one type 2 container (B2339092) on TLL as it is in effect a virtual transfer.

Any problems let me know.

Thanks

Subject: Correct list - DVA reference transfer list [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED]
Attachments: Copy of A8742 NRA applications 20 August 2014.xlsx

UNCLASSIFIED

As discussed,

The one highlighted had a duplicate entry with a title - Reports, publications and references supplied to the department regarding Agent Orange and other herbicides (where no file exists for a specific herbicides). The physical file has the title I uploaded. Not sure about the email you sent last week they may be located elsewhere.

They are all in one type 2 container (B2339092) on TLL as it is in effect a virtual transfer.

Any problems let me know.

Thanks

STATEMENT OF REASONS UNDER SECTION 40(5) OF THE ARCHIVES ACT 1983

Series: A8742

Control symbol: 1983/1029

Barcode: 4679929

Title: Ombudsman Inquiry into Complaints by the Vietnam Veteran Association – Victorian Branch

Decision Maker: Lee Kerr

Date: 6 November 2014

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Decision

After examining this record I have decided to partially release the record for public access with the exception of certain material which is exempt under s 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act.

The findings on material facts

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- Detailed medical information about a person or persons.

Reasons for decision

- The public disclosure of this information would reasonably be expected to cause embarrassment or distress to the person/s named, and nothing in the record suggests that the information was widely known at the time.
- It is reasonable to assume that at the time the exempted information was gathered, the subject had no expectation that it would be publicly disclosed, and the passage of time has not diminished the sensitivity of the information.

Appeal rights

The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) undertakes careful examination of a record before making a decision to exempt any part of a record. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with my decision to exempt information under a provision of s 33 of the Archives Act, and within 28 days of receiving it, you can formally appeal by:

- 1) first applying to Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
- 2) if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

For more information please read the National Archives Fact Sheet 12- *What to do if we refuse you access. You can also lodge a complaint with the Commonwealth Ombudsman in relation to the decision.

Hi s 47F(1),

Thanks for the update. I don't believe we have any problem with them being in your custody for that period of time we were just wondering what the timelines / timeframes were - we don't often provide records for access examination as most records are either already in NAA or are being accessed via FOI.

On the off-chance we need access to one we will get in touch. Once the access decisions are made and the resulting process(es) (if any) are complete just drop us a line and we can work out the arrangements for having them returned. We would also appreciate advice on the outcome of the access request so our records people can be aware and we can also advise our FOI people in case the access prompts further requests on this general topic through the FOI channel.

Thanks again for keeping us updated.

Regards,

Good morning s 47F(1),

Further to the email that I sent to you in January.

I have been able to establish that the access examination of all the files will not be completed until the middle of the year at the earliest.

How would you like to proceed from here? I am happy to discuss any options with you.

I don't want to create extra work for you and your staff.

BTW, when the files are not being worked on they are located at our East Burwood repository.

Hi s 47F(1) .

Just touching base on these records we provided in September.

Is there a timeframe for when they will be returned? We don't have any urgent need for them we just want to ensure we keep on top of what is going on.

Regards,

Hi s 47F(1) .

This is what I got from s 47F(1) :

Hi s 47F(1) and s 47F(1) ,

All files have been located, with exception of:

811341 ESTABLISHMENT REPATRIATION GENERAL HOSPITAL CONCORD NEW SOUTH WALES : FOOD SERVICE SECTION  ARCHIVED GDA 17 8 1 1994  At Home Location: NAA - ACT NAA - ACT as it is marked to NAA ACT - however, as you can see by the title, it is somewhat different to the other files you have requested.

We do however have 2 other files, similarly titled, sort of similar number, but not on the list of files requested:

841341 VIETNAM VETERANS AGENT ORANGE CLASS ACTION SUIT IN USA. Classified Safe Portside Classified, Safe

821267 COMMONWEALTH INSTITUTE OF HEALTH : AUSTRALIAN VETERANS HERBICIDE STUDIES : AGENT ORANGE EPIDEMIOLOGICAL STUDY Classified Safe Portside Classified, Safe

So it seems the 811341 ought have been 841341, which is what she supplied.

Cheers,

Hi s 47F(1) .

The records are good to be picked up. When you know what kinds of timeline you have for yourself on Thursday can you please get in touch with s 47F(1) (03 9284 6115, s 47F(1)) or s 47F(1) (03 9624 5403) to arrange the pick up?

We found an error with one of the numbers, the number provided did not gel with the title provided, so the correct record was sourced and will be supplied.

Thanks,

Hi s 47F(1)

The NAA have decided to have the Melbourne located DVA records go to the Melbourne NAA Office instead of Canberra - and they are offering to come and pick them up. s 47F(1) has a vehicle available to her next Thursday (25th). Are we able to have those 150 ish files pulled and made ready for them to pick up? Her contact details are below if you need to tic-tac with her to sort timelines.

Cheers.

Dear s 47F(1)

As per our phone conversation can you please initiate the process of retrieving the above 150 files for temporary transfer to NAA?

I am able to pick up the files next Thursday 25 September if that helps the situation.

If next Thursday is not suitable, please advise me of when the files will be ready and I will coordinate for the files to be picked up.

My contact details are listed below.

Thanks,

STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR DECISION
UNDER SECTION 40(5) OF THE *ARCHIVES ACT 1983

Series: A8742

Control Symbol: 1980/2481

Barcode: 13549856

Title: Commonwealth Institute of Health - Australian veterans herbicides studies (Agent Orange epidemiological study) - Policy

Decision Maker: Grant Battersby

Designation: Access examiner APS 6

Date: 8 July 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is open with exception under 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

Four folios have been partially exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- detailed information about medical conditions suffered by individuals

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision

The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) carefully examines records before deciding to exempt any part of them. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with the decision, you can formally appeal within 28 days of receiving:

1. by first applying to the Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
2. if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is open with exceptions under Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

13 folios (77-89) have been partially exempted and four folios (94-97) have been wholly exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- information concerning the personal affairs of a named person
- detailed information about medical conditions suffered by individuals

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided to partially release the record for public access with exception to certain materials (Folios 17, 80, 98, 105, 274-277) which are exempt under s 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- information concerning the personal affairs of a named person

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision

The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) carefully examines records before deciding to exempt any part of them. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with the decision, you can formally appeal within 28 days of receiving:

1. by first applying to the Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
2. if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

Title: Royal Commission into the effects of the use of chemical agents in Vietnam -
Departmental issues

Decision Maker: Grant Battersby

Designation: Access examiner APS 6

Date: 21 July 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is open with exceptions under Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

Two folios (133uu – 133vv) have been partially exempted and four folios (133ss-133tt and 134-135) have been wholly exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- detailed information about medical conditions suffered by individuals

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Six folios have been partially exempted from public access and replaced with redacted copies.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- detailed information about medical conditions suffered by individuals

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision

The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) carefully examines records before deciding to exempt any part of them. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with the decision, you can formally appeal within 28 days of receiving:

1. by first applying to the Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
2. if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

Decision Maker: Grant Battersby

Designation: Access examiner APS 6

Date: 6 August 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records
- information derived from my own research

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is open with exceptions under Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

Two folios have been partially exempted and replaced with redacted copies.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

Dear [REDACTED]

These records are not being held permanently by the NAA as they have not been permanently transferred into our custody. While these records are likely eligible for permanent transfer, at this time they have only been temporarily transferred in response to your application for access. Permanent transfers come about as part of a separate process which requires significantly more work, as well as agreement between NAA and the agency to permanently transfer the records.

While we advise agencies of the need to transfer records into our custody at the end of the records' business use or within 15 years of creation, the controlling agency is then responsible to make the necessary transfer arrangements. In addition, there may be business reasons that particular records are not transferred into NAA custody.

I do not agree that having the records in agency custody limits their availability to the public under the Act. Regardless of where the records are held, a member of the public can submit an application for access to them. If the records are not in NAA custody they then will be transferred to the NAA by the agency concerned and we will examine them and provide access as required by Section 40 of the Act. These records are a case in point – you applied for access to them, they were transferred from the agency to NAA, and were then examined and made available to you.

I hope this answers your questions. If you have any further concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Dear s 47F(1),

I am using your email as there was not a reply link in your last.

My question may go beyond your wrote but:

a. why are these records over 25 years old not being held in the custody of the NAA;

b. is there some formal loan-back agreement in place with DVA for them?

It would seem to me this situation is limiting the 'publicly available' provision of the Act.

Dear [REDACTED]

I have now looked through these cards. Rather than trying to identify individual files that you could apply for access to, I have identified 'blocks' of cards that relate to the broad subject areas/agencies which you have identified.

There are relevant cards in all 4 boxes of A8501 (the agency cards) and in 4 out of 5 boxes of A8504 (the subject cards). In order to avoid the extensive delays that would result from examining the entire boxes of cards, I am proposing that we instead examine the cards in the 'blocks' I have identified. We could then provide you with access to the cards in these 'blocks' and you could identify individual files which may be of interest to you.

If you are agreeable to this course of action, I will get our examiners to start work.

Dear s 47F(1) [REDACTED],

Thank you for that information.

You'll appreciate its hard to do it this way partly as I will recognise once I saw titles and I can only guide you vaguely.

On ASIO--virtually everything in the open period.

On the other three--matters concerned with foreign government information/documents, security matters, time periods in processing requests.

I'll try and think further.

You might also check if there are cards on:

- a. foreign government information;
- b. official histories.

Dear [REDACTED]

I've now had a look at the A8501 Agency index cards. There are four boxes of cards in this series, and all four boxes appear to contain cards which relate to the four departments you identified (ASIO, DFAT, Defence and PM&C). There are a number of cards for each Department, recording a variety of different files. Is there a particular subject you are looking for correspondence for? This would assist me to identify relevant material.

Dear [REDACTED],

Apologies, but I am somewhat confused by your responses to my queries yesterday about your two old inquiries, NAA1000090712 and NAA1000090724.

Across these two inquiries, we've been able to locate three series of records:

NAA1000090724:

A8501 (Agency index cards)
A8502 (Subject index cards)

NAA1000090712:

A8504 (Subject index cards)

When I sent you a query about the A8501 and A8502 index cards, you asked about your date of application (presumably for the applications I submitted for the A8502 cards on your behalf). Although these applications were only submitted on the system yesterday, I have backdated them to reflect your original date of application (3/9/2014). As such, your rights of appeal etc will apply from the original date of application. I have not yet submitted applications for the A8501 cards. As I indicated these will be very difficult to examine as they contain closed period material. Instead I propose that I search them on your behalf (see below).

Secondly, when I sent you a query about the A8504 index cards, you supplied a list of agencies that you were interested in correspondence with. A8504 is a set of subject index cards – they are not listed by agency. Given this, I will search the A8501 cards (which are listed by agency) to identify correspondence with these agencies. I'll let you know once this is done.

STATEMENT OF REASONS FOR DECISION
UNDER SECTION 40(5) OF THE *ARCHIVES ACT 1983

Series: A8742

Control Symbol: 1981/1111

Barcode: 13549866

Title: Reports, publications and references supplied to the department regarding Agent Orange and other herbicides

Decision Maker: Grant Battersby

Designation: Access examiner APS 6

Date: 30 July 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is open with exceptions under 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

One folio has been partially exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- detailed information about medical conditions suffered by individuals

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision

The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) carefully examines records before deciding to exempt any part of them. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with the decision, you can formally appeal within 28 days of receiving:

1. by first applying to the Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
2. if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

Title: Senate Standing Committee on Science and the Environment - Enquiry into the use of pesticides

Decision Maker: Daniel McGlinchey

Designation: Access Examiner APS 5

Date: 20 November 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records
- information provided by Commonwealth agency/ies which I have relied upon in formulating my decision

Decision

I have decided that this item is Open With Exception under 33(1)(d) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

Folios (5-69) have been wholly exempted from public access.

The findings of facts

Section 33(1)(d) of the Archives Act provides that:

information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would constitute a breach of confidence.

This record contains:

- information provided in confidence.

Reasons for decision

- The public disclosure of this information would constitute a breach of confidence.
- The information was provided with the expectation that it would remain confidential and it would be unreasonable to disclose it.

Review of decision

The National Archives of Australia (the Archives) carefully examines records before deciding to exempt any part of them. As part of that process we may consult with other agencies which have expertise on specific national and international matters.

If you do not agree with the decision, you can formally appeal within 28 days of receiving:

1. by first applying to the Archives for an internal reconsideration of my decision; and
2. if you still do not agree with the decision, you can apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal for a review.

Series: A8742
Control symbol: 1982/2306

Title: 1st report of the Senate Standing Committee on science and the environment - Pesticides and the health of Australian Vietnam veterans - Departmental response
Decision Maker: Gay Hogan
Designation: APS6
Date: 24 November 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is Open with exception under section 33(1)(d) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below.

Eighty one folios, (99, 100 and 225-303) have been wholly exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would constitute a breach of confidence.

The findings of facts

Section 33(1)(d) of the Archives Act provides that:

- information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would constitute a breach of confidence.

This record contains:

- Copy of a submission from a member of the public dated 29 January 1982 to the Senate Standing Committee on Science and the Environment – Pesticides and the Health of Vietnam Veterans.
- Copy of a submission from a member of the public dated 10 March 1982 to the Senate Standing Committee on Science and the Environment – Pesticides and the Health of Vietnam Veterans.

Reasons for decision

The public disclosure of this information would constitute a breach of confidence as there is no record these submissions were authorised for publication.

A parliamentary committee's documents that have not been authorised for publication by the committee cannot be disclosed to any person other than a member or officer of the committee (Senate standing order 37 and House standing order 242).

In addition access to material not authorised for publication is governed by:

- standing order 37 of the Senate and Senate resolution of 6 September 1984 relating to the disclosure of evidence or documents of joint committees; and
- standing order 242 of the House and resolution of the House dated 11 October 1984 relating to the disclosure of evidence and documents of House and joint committees.

The disclosure of committee evidence which has not been authorised for publication may occur:

- after 30 years have passed, the Presiding Officers may, on behalf of the Houses, approve the disclosure, if they consider that disclosure to be 'appropriate'; or
- if the Houses, by resolution, approve the publication of the documents.

In this case disclosure or publication has not been approved.

- Section 13 of the Parliamentary Privileges Act 1987 also makes it an offence to disclose committee evidence taken in camera if that evidence has not already been authorised for publication by a House or a committee.

Review of decision

If you do not agree with my decision to refuse access on the ground that the record is an exempt record (s33), you have the right to apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) for a review of my decision. Any such application should be lodged with a Registry of the Tribunal within 60 days of your receipt of this decision. The Tribunal can advise you about fees levied in relation to Archives Act applications. More information can be found on the AAT's website (www.aat.gov.au).

For more information please read the National Archives Fact Sheet 12 What to do if we refuse you access (www.naa.gov.au/about-us/publications/fact-sheets/fs12.aspx).

Comment: Application for access to the 5 sets of paper control records that were subsumed in A10249 in 1987

Item Details

Series: Control Symbol: UNKNOWN Barcode: 13058610
Title: Application for access to the 5 sets of paper control records that were subsumed in A10249 in 1987
Access status: Date of decision:

In 1987, the Dept. transitioned from using paper control records to control its main file series (A8742) to using an electronic RMS system (A10249). According to NAA records, A8742 was originally controlled by four series of index cards and a file registration and movement card series. When the electronic system was created, all information from these cards was loaded into the electronic system. Client wishes to apply for access to these 5 series of paper card control records. If these records are no longer extant, please advise date of destruction and disposal authority number and class under which they were destroyed.

COPIED FROM NAA1000087585: Vietnam etc

Dear

I am writing in regard to your application for access to A8742, 1984/2099, which we submitted to DVA on your behalf (see previous inquiry NAA1000087585).

DVA have now responded to this application. Unfortunately, they have stated that A8742, 1984/2099 was destroyed in September 2009 as per ADFA class 1399. There was also a subsequent file (1988/2436) which was destroyed under GDA 14, class 36.1.2 in 1994.

Lastly, they noted that there is a related file in NAA custody - 1987/161 "REPRESENTATIONS BY MR MONTY HOLLOW : AGENT ORANGE". As previously noted, you have already applied for access to this record - access application number 2014/00425853, submitted 5 August 2014. We will process this application as normal.

If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Yours Sincerely,

Question READERS SURVEY
Answer Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your query about the destruction of record 1984/2099 from series A8742. You inquired why NAA 'allowed' this record to be destroyed, given its significance to the Royal Commission on the use and effects of chemical agents on Australian personnel in Vietnam.

This record had never been in NAA custody. Throughout its existence, it remained in the custody of the controlling agency (DVA). As the record was never in our custody, the Archives would not have been directly involved in the sentencing and destruction of the record. DVA would have sentenced the record against a current disposal authority and made the disposal decision.

Under the Archives Act 1983, Commonwealth government agencies cannot dispose of records without authorisation from the Archives. However, we do not oversee each individual disposal decision made by agencies, rather we provide this authorisation by issuing disposal authorities to agencies. By sentencing their records with the appropriate records authority, and by documenting the process, agencies demonstrate that they have legally disposed of records under the Archives Act.

If you require more information about this particular disposal decision, I would suggest that you contact DVA.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours Sincerely,

Answer	Dear [REDACTED]
Thank you for your email.
I have looked into this matter further, and found that one aspect of my advice yesterday was incorrect. These records are not part of a permanent consignment in Melbourne office. They were received in our Melbourne office from DVA Victoria as a temporary reference transfer. As such, the usual procedure would be to return them to the agency once you had finished with them.
RecordSearch only states 0.9 meters of this series in Melbourne as Melbourne office staff did not update this entry to account for the temporary transfer of these boxes of files (which amount to approximately another 2 shelf meters).
As these are to be returned to the agency once they go back to Melbourne, I would suggest that you try and view them here if possible. As I stated earlier, due to storage constraints in Canberra it would be our preference to return these by the end of September.
If you have any concerns, please do not hesitate to contact me.
Yours sincerely,

The files in question are files from our Melbourne office which were brought to Canberra for examination. As they were already here, we thought we could offer you the opportunity to view them here rather than in Melbourne. This said, we do want to return them to Melbourne within a reasonable timeframe, and have limited capacity to store them in the Canberra reading room, particularly given the high volume of other material which we are also holding for you. As discussed, we can hold these until the end of September, after which they will be returned to Melbourne. If you are not able to view these within this timeframe, they will be available in the Melbourne reading room as normal from the end of September onwards. When they have been examined and opened they have not, as agreed, on all my applications been placed on my shelf in the ACT search room. Accordingly I submitted a limited number of requests of the opened files to be brought to the search room. These did not appear and instead I was given six large boxes containing 60-70 files including some but not all that I had requested as well as many I planned to request at a later date. I was told I had to inspect the files in a week or so prior to their return to Melbourne. (Whether this meant the agency of Victoria NAA I do not know. Even though I am a fast worker I really doubt I can complete these files in such a brief period. Subject: Query re transfer job 2014/00543853 [SEC=UNCLASSIFIED]

UNCLASSIFIED

Hi s 47F(1)

I had a question re transfer job 2014/00543853.

According to the JIS, this is a reference transfer from DVA. The files in this transfer were sent up to Canberra for examination by Melbourne access staff. They've now been examined, and the researcher, [REDACTED] has viewed some of them in the reading room here.

However, he is not sure he will have time to view them all before we need to send them back to Melbourne. My question is, have these been transferred in as a permanent transfer (and thus will be available in future in Melbourne), or will they be sent back to DVA once they are returned to Melbourne?

Thanks,

Rather than trying to identify individual files that you could apply for access to, I have identified blocks of cards that relate to the broad subject areas/agencies which you have identified. There are relevant cards in all 4 boxes of A8501 (the agency cards) and in 4 out of 5 boxes of A8504 (the subject cards). In order to avoid the extensive delays that would result from examining the entire boxes of cards, I am proposing that we instead examine the cards in the blocks I have identified. We could then provide you with access to the cards in these blocks and you could identify individual files which may be of interest to you. Across these two inquiries, we've been able to locate three series of records: NAA1000090724: A8501 (Agency index cards) A8502 (Subject index cards) NAA1000090712: A8504 (Subject index cards) When I sent you a query about the A8501 and A8502 index cards, you asked about your date of application (presumably for the applications I submitted for the A8502 cards on your behalf). Although these applications were only submitted on the system yesterday, I have backdated them to reflect your original date of application (3/9/2014). As such, your rights of appeal etc will apply from the original date of application. I have not yet submitted applications for the A8501 cards. As I indicated these will be very difficult to examine as they contain closed period material. Instead I propose that I search them on your behalf (see below). Secondly, when I sent you a query about the A8504 index cards, you supplied a list of agencies that you were interested in correspondence with. A8504 is a set of subject index cards (they are not listed by agency. Given this, I will search the A8501 cards (which are listed by agency) to identify correspondence with these agencies. Ill let you know once this is done. Dear [REDACTED]

I am writing to notify you of the outcome of your internal reconsideration application for the following records:

- A8742, 1984/1384- Agent Orange Exposure - C Company RAR (barcode 13550164)
- A8742, 1982/441- Branch office statistics relating to enquiries received from ex-servicemen and the general public regarding Agent Orange and other herbicides (barcode 13549906)
- A8742, 1984/1762 - Royal Commission into the effects of the use of chemical agents in Vietnam - Departmental issues, (barcode 13550170)

The records, which were previously closed, are now open with exception. Some material has been withheld under 33(1)(g) (information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person)). The attached a statement of reasons outlines my decision, and lists the folios that have been exempted.

These records are normally located in Melbourne, however, as the internal reconsideration was completed in the Canberra office, I will make the records available for you to view in the Canberra Reading Room until 15 January, before they are returned to Melbourne.

STATEMENT OF REASONS

APPLICATION FOR ACCESS TO COMMONWEALTH RECORDS PURSUANT TO SECTION 42 OF THE ARCHIVES ACT 1983 (CTH)

Series: A8742

Control Symbol: 1982/441

Barcode: 13549906

Title: Branch office statistics relating to enquiries received from ex servicemen and the general public regarding Agent Orange and other herbicides

Decision Maker: Kate Roberts

Designation: Assistant Director

Date: 10 December 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is Open With Exception under 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below. Folios 142 and 168 are partially exempt from public access and folios 3, 82-87, 89-99, 129, 142, 145, 156, 158-169, 180, 182, 189- 191 and 193-198 have been wholly exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- information about medical conditions suffered by individuals, and
- information relating to compensation claims.

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision

If you do not agree with my decision to refuse access on the ground that the record is an exempt record (s33), you have the right to apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) for a review of my decision. Any such application should be lodged with a Registry of the Tribunal within 60 days of your receipt of this decision. The Tribunal can advise you about fees levied in relation to Archives Act applications. More information can be found on the AAT's website (www.aat.gov.au).

For more information please read the National Archives Fact Sheet 12 What to do if we refuse you access (www.naa.gov.au/about-us/publications/fact-sheets/fs12.aspx).

Rights to make a complaint to the Ombudsman in relation to this decision

The Archives Act (subsections 40(9) and (10)) give you the right to lodge a complaint to the Commonwealth Ombudsman ('the Ombudsman'). You also have the right to complain to the Ombudsman outside the Archives Act.

Under the Archives Act, if you lodge a complaint to the Ombudsman before the required statutory timeframe has elapsed, the Ombudsman can determine that there has been an unreasonable delay by the Archives and provide you with a certificate that would enable you to appeal directly to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal.

The Ombudsman considers and investigates complaints from people who believe they have been treated unfairly or unreasonably by an Australian Government department or agency. The Ombudsman aims to resolve complaints impartially, informally and quickly. If the Ombudsman cannot assist with a particular complaint they will explain why and suggest other avenues for resolving the matter.

The Ombudsman cannot override the decisions of the agencies it deals with, nor issue directions to their staff. Instead, the Ombudsman resolves disputes through consultation and negotiation, and if necessary, by making formal recommendations to the most senior levels of government.

The process for making a complaint to the Commonwealth Ombudsman is available from:

- www.ombudsman.gov.au/making-a-complaint
- By Phone: 1300 362 072
- Indigenous Line Number 1800 060 789
- GPO Box 442 Canberra ACT 2601
- Fax: 6276 0123

STATEMENT OF REASONS

APPLICATION FOR ACCESS TO COMMONWEALTH RECORDS PURSUANT TO SECTION 42 OF THE ARCHIVES ACT 1983 (CTH)

Series: A8742

Control Symbol: 1984/1384

Barcode: 13550164

Title: Agent Orange Exposure – C Company RAR

Decision Maker: Kate Roberts

Designation: Assistant Director

Date: 10 December 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is Open With Exception under 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below. Folios 14 to 56 and 81 to 84 have been wholly exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

The findings of facts

This record contains:

- detailed information about medical conditions suffered by individuals, and
- information relating to compensation claims.

Reasons for decision

The information exempted is of a nature such that its disclosure could lead to an unreasonable intrusion on the personal affairs of a person or persons.

The information is of a kind that most members of the community would not want disclosed about themselves. There is nothing in the record that suggests the information was widely known in the community at the time.

There is no evidence in the record that suggests that when the information was gathered, the subject expected it to be made publicly known or that it has become known in the intervening years.

Disclosure of the information would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information.

Review of decision

If you do not agree with my decision to refuse access on the ground that the record is an exempt record (s33), you have the right to apply to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) for a review of my decision. Any such application should be lodged with a Registry of the Tribunal within 60 days of your receipt of this decision. The Tribunal can advise you about fees levied in relation to Archives Act applications. More information can be found on the AAT's website (www.aat.gov.au).

For more information please read the National Archives Fact Sheet 12 What to do if we refuse you access (www.naa.gov.au/about-us/publications/fact-sheets/fs12.aspx).

Rights to make a complaint to the Ombudsman in relation to this decision

The Archives Act (subsections 40(9) and (10)) give you the right to lodge a complaint to the Commonwealth Ombudsman ('the Ombudsman'). You also have the right to complain to the Ombudsman outside the Archives Act.

Under the Archives Act, if you lodge a complaint to the Ombudsman before the required statutory timeframe has elapsed, the Ombudsman can determine that there has been an unreasonable delay by the Archives and provide you with a certificate that would enable you to appeal directly to the Administrative Appeals Tribunal.

The Ombudsman considers and investigates complaints from people who believe they have been treated unfairly or unreasonably by an Australian Government department or agency. The Ombudsman aims to resolve complaints impartially, informally and quickly. If the Ombudsman cannot assist with a particular complaint they will explain why and suggest other avenues for resolving the matter.

The Ombudsman cannot override the decisions of the agencies it deals with, nor issue directions to their staff. Instead, the Ombudsman resolves disputes through consultation and negotiation, and if necessary, by making formal recommendations to the most senior levels of government.

The process for making a complaint to the Commonwealth Ombudsman is available from:

STATEMENT OF REASONS

APPLICATION FOR ACCESS TO COMMONWEALTH RECORDS PURSUANT TO SECTION 42 OF THE ARCHIVES ACT 1983 (CTH)

Series: A8742

Control Symbol: 1984/1762

Barcode: 13550170

Title: Royal Commission into the effects of the use of chemical agents in Vietnam -
Departmental issues

Decision Maker: Kate Roberts

Designation: Assistant Director

Date: 14 December 2015

In accordance with requirements of subsection 8(1) of the Archives Act 1983 (Cth) (Archives Act), I am a person authorised by the Director-General, pursuant to an Instrument of Delegation, to make a decision in relation to access to the requested record.

Basis for decision

In making my decision, I considered:

- the content of the record requested
- the relevant provisions of the Archives Act 1983
- policy and guidelines of National Archives of Australia that relate to the access examination of Commonwealth records

Decision

After examining this record I have decided that this item is Open With Exception under 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act for the reasons set out below. Folios and documents numbered 7-14, 20, 21, 49, 66-70, 96-124, 135, 136, 143- 324, 332a -354, 356, 358- 373, 375--414, 429, 432-452, 456-462, 464-468, 470, 478-481, 485-486, and 490-492 have been wholly exempted from public access. Folios and documents numbered 71, 135, 136 have been partially exempted from public access.

The material exempted contains information relating to the personal affairs of a person or persons and is the type of information that continues to be sensitive.

Section 33(1)(g) of the Archives Act 1983 provides that:

a record is exempt if it contains information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person).

Dear [REDACTED]

Â

I am writing to notify you of the outcome of your internal reconsideration application for the following records:

Â

Â·Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â A8742, 1984/1384â Agent Orange Exposure â C Company RAR (barcode 13550164)

Â·Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â A8742, 1982/441â Branch office statistics relating to enquiries received from ex-servicemen and the general public regarding Agent Orange and other herbicides (barcode 13549906)

Â·Â Â Â Â Â Â Â Â A8742, 1984/1762 - Royal Commission into the effects of the use of chemical agents in Vietnam - Departmental issues, (barcode 13550170)

Â

The records, which were previously closed, are now open with exception. Some material has been withheld under 33(1)(g) (information or matter the disclosure of which under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of information relating to the personal affairs of any person (including a deceased person). The attached a statement of reasons outlines my decision, and lists the folios that have been exempted.

Â

These records are normally located in Melbourne, however, as the internal reconsideration was completed in the Canberra office, I will make the records available for you to view in the Canberra Reading Room until 15 January, before they are returned to Melbourne.

Hi s 47F(1)

Thanks for that, will he be going to the office in the city or the Port Melbourne repository site?

I only ask as we have no representation for our section in the state office at Latrobe street at the moment, and therefore I don't think anyone there will want to accept the files.

I am waiting for more staff to arrive at work and hopefully I can talk someone around to accept the files on our behalf.

If s 47F(1) is going to the Port Melbourne site (620 Lorimer Street Port Melbourne) then there are Records staff onsite until 3pm.

The other option is to courier them over here?

Thanks

Hi s 47F(1),

In regards to the records we had on loan from A8742 (list attached). s 47F(1) from our office will be going to DVA today to deliver a file requested so I have asked him to return the files from A8742 as well.

I hope that will be OK with you.

Hi s 47F(1).

The NAA have decided to have the Melbourne located DVA records go to the Melbourne NAA Office instead of Canberra - and they are offering to come and pick them up. s 47F(1) has a vehicle available to her next Thursday (25th). Are we able to have those 150 ish files pulled and made ready for them to pick up? Her contact details are below if you need to tic-tac with her to sort timelines.

Cheers.

Dear s 47F(1),

As per our phone conversation can you please initiate the process of retrieving the above 150 files for temporary transfer to NAA?

I am able to pick up the files next Thursday 25 September if that helps the situation.

If next Thursday is not suitable, please advise me of when the files will be ready and I will coordinate for the files to be picked up.

My contact details are listed below.
